MEDIAN UNDERGRADUATE TUITION & FEES UP BY 14.3 PERCENT OVER LAST YEAR

The median student tuition for a year's attendance at one of the nation's major public universities has jumped 14.3 percent for the current academic year, from $966 in 1981-82 to $1,104 in 1982-83. Last year's increase was 17.7 percent.

The median total charge for undergraduate tuition and fees, room and board for state residents attending state and land-grant universities during 1982-83 is $3,147, compared to $2,901 in 1981-82, an increase of 8.4 percent. Last year total charges rose 14.3 percent.

The Office of Communications Services of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges (NASULGC) received survey data from all of the Association's 140 member institutions and branch campuses in the 50 states, the District of Columbia, Guam, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Table 1 shows a two-year comparison of median undergraduate charges at state universities and land-grant colleges for state residents and non-residents.

N = number of respondents. For inclusion in total charges, a respondent must be a four-year, Ph.D.-granting member institution that offers room and from 19 to 21 meals per week. (*N for 1981-82 Resident and Non-Resident Tuition and Fees is 146).

[1]Median charges at institutions with separate room and board fees.

[2]Median charges at all institutions that offer room and board.

Of a total of 192 survey respondents, 148 met the criteria for inclusion in the statistical tables comprising this report. The criteria are: (1) a four-year campus; (2) a Ph.D.-granting institution; and (3) a campus that offers room and from 19 to 21 meals per week. The remaining 44 campuses, which are not included in Tables 1 to 17, are included in Table 18.

NON-RESIDENT TUITION HIKE HELD TO 6 PERCENT THIS YEAR

The median charge to non-resident undergraduates for tuition and fees rose from $2,434 in 1981-82 to $2,580 in 1982-83, an increase of 5.9 percent compared to last year's 10.5 percent jump.

Median total charges for non-residents this year are $4,631, compared to $4,281 in 1981-82, a jump of 8.1 percent.

This year the median room rate is $1,050, a rise of 12.4 percent over last year's median of $934 for the 86 comparable campuses which provided data on separate room charges. The median board rate rose 6 percent at 84 comparable campuses, from $1,000 in 1981-82 to $1,060 in 1982-83.

Combined room and board, including data for campuses which charge separately for these services and those which have one combined charge, rose 9.8 percent, from $1,930 in 1981-82 to $2,121 in 1982-83. One hundred and twenty-four comparable campuses provided information about room and board.

The primary reason for increases in student charges given by 105 respondents was inflation. Seventy-nine respondents said that the necessity to maintain program quality was the primary reason for raising student charges. Other respondents cited inadequate appropriations from state legislatures (52), faculty and staff salary increases (43), lack of alternative sources of revenue (40), legislative mandates (16) and changes in student aid (6). Twenty-two cited "other" reasons such as capital expenditures for medical equipment, debt service on new housing facilities, expanded student services and changes in state funding formulas.

NEW ENGLAND AGAIN LEADS REGIONAL COMPARISONS

Member institutions in New England continue to have the highest tuition and fees, both for state residents and non-residents. The Western schools reported the lowest tuition and fees for in-state students, with schools in the Southeast having the lowest out-of-state tuition and fees.

For resident undergraduates, the median charge in New England is $1,461, followed by $1,156 in the Midwest, $1,155 in the Middle Atlantic, $842 in the Southeast and $788 in the West, which had the highest number of respondents.

For non-resident students, New England also leads the regions, with a median charge of $4,230. The Midwest comes next with a median charge of $3,111, followed by the Middle Atlantic ($2,717), West ($2,448), and the Southeast ($2,402). Table 2 gives a regional comparison of median charges for undergraduate tuition and fees for 1982-83.

LAW AND MEDICINE LEAD GRADUATE & PROFESSIONAL TUITION HIKES FOR 1982-83

Of all graduate and professional students at NASULGC institutions, non-resident medical students sustained the greatest median tuition increase in 1982-83, with a 21 percent jump over last year. In-state medical students pay 16.5 percent more this year.

Other major increases in median tuition at comparable graduate and professional schools were reported for resident law students (20 percent), non-resident law students (19.7 percent), resident graduate students (18.4 percent) and resident dentistry students (17.7 percent).

Each of the five types of graduate and professional schools examined sustained a major increase in tuition for 1982-83 with only one increase being less than ten percent (non-resident graduate students with a 9.7 percent increase).

Table 3 gives complete information on median charges at comparable reporting graduate and professional schools for 1981-82 and 1982-83, and the amount and percentage of change.

19 CAMPUSES HELD THE LINE ON TUITION; 10 ON TOTAL CHARGES

Nineteen campuses did not raise resident undergraduate tuition and fees in 1982-83, compared to 18 in 1981-82. The following 19 campuses did not increase resident undergraduate tuition and fees this year.

Auburn University
University of Hawaii, Manoa
Louisiana State University, Medical Center
Alcorn State University
University of Mississippi Medical Center
SUNY/Albany
SUNY/Buffalo
SUNY/Buffalo Health Center
SUNY/Stony Brook
SUNY/Downstate Medical Center
SUNY/Upstate Medical Center
North Carolina Central University
North Dakota State University
Prairie View A&M University
University of Houston
University of Texas, Austin
Texas Southern University
Texas Tech University
University of Texas Health Science, Dallas

Eighteen campuses did not raise non-resident undergraduate tuition and fees in 1982-83, compared to 17 in 1981-82. The following 18 campuses did not increase non-resident undergraduate tuition and fees this year.

Auburn University
University of Hawaii, Manoa
Louisiana State University, Medical Center
Alcorn State University
University of Mississippi Medical Center
SUNY/Albany
SUNY/Buffalo
SUNY/ Buffalo Health Center
SUNY/Stony Brook Health Center
SUNY/Downstate Medical Center
SUNY/Upstate Medical Center
North Carolina Central University
North Dakota State University
University of Houston
University of Texas, Austin
Texas Southern University
Texas Tech University
University of Texas Health Science, Dallas

Ten campuses held the line this year by not raising total charges (tuition, fees, room and board) for resident undergraduates. They were:

University of Alabama at Birmingham
University of California, San Francisco
Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville
Indiana University at Indianapolis
University of Missouri, St. Louis
Rutgers University, Newark Campus
City University of New York
Oregon State University
Penn State University Hershey Medical Center
University of Nebraska Medical Center

(In 1981-82 only one campus held the line on total charges compared to five campuses in 1980-81, two campuses in 1979-80, 24 in 1978-79, 32 in 1977-78 and 15 in 1976-77).

RESIDENT TUITION IS OVER $1,000 AT MORE THAN HALF OF CAMPUSES

Eighty-three campuses had charges of $1,000 or more for resident undergraduate tuition and fees, compared to 53 in 1981-82, 31 in 1980-81, 24 in 1979-80 and 15 in 1978-79. The number of campuses charging less than $400 was three in 1982-83. This was an increase over 1981-82, when only one of the campuses surveyed charged less than $400, but it was less than the number of campuses charging under $400 in 1980-81 (8) and 1978-79 and 1979-80 (11 for both years).

Consistent with the last three years, the number of campuses charging in the $700 to $999 range was less than half of the total number of respondents: 37 in 1982-83, 42 in 1981-82, and 80 in 1980-81.

The number of campuses that charge non-resident students less than $1,000 was one and, at the other end of the scale, the number of campuses charging non-resident undergraduates more than $3,400 was 39 -- a considerable increase over 1979-80 figures (6) and 1980-81 figures (10). 1981-82 figures were not available on this item.

Table 4 gives the ranges and number of campuses in each range for undergraduate tuition and fees in 1982-83.

Seventy campuses charged resident undergraduates $3,000 and above in 1982-83 for tuition, fees, room and board, while in 1981-82 52 campuses did, in 1980-81 27 campuses did, and in 1979-80 only 10 did. In 1982-83 one campus charged $1,999 or less for total charges, compared to two in 1981-82 and 13 in 1980-81.

Total charges for non-resident undergraduates in 1982-83 reveal the same pattern. Fifty-eight campuses charged non-residents $4,700 and above in 1982-83, compared to 45 in 1981-82, 34 in 1980-81 and 18 in 1979-80. At the lower end, no campuses charged less than $2,999 in 1982-83 or 1981-82; two did in 1980-81, and four did in 1979-80. Table 5 gives the ranges of total charges and the number of campuses in each range for 1982-83.

Median tuition and fees for both residents and non-residents increased from 1981-82 to 1982-83 on all but three campuses. However, for residents, 48 or almost 40 percent of the campuses increased tuition and fees by less than $100, and for non-residents, 22, or almost 18 percent increased tuition and fees by only this much. Increases in total charges for most institutions ranged from $100 to $399 for residents (86 campuses or almost 70 percent with increases falling in this range). For non-residents, 1981-82 to 1982-83 increases in total charges were fairly well distributed from the $100 to $200 range through the $700 to $800 range. Tables 6, 7, 8, and 9 show the ranges of increases in tuition and fees and total charges for both resident and non-resident students.

LONG-TERM MEDIAN TUITION RISE OUTSTRIPS RISE IN HIGHER EDUCATION PRICE INDEX

The National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges has surveyed its member institutions about tuition and fees since 1965. From 1965-66 to 1982-83, median charges for resident undergraduate tuition and fees have risen 254.98 percent, from $311 to $1,104. During the same 17-year period, the Higher Education Price Index rose 220.99 percent and the Consumer Price Index rose 210.58 percent. (The Higher Education Price Index was developed by D. Kent Halstead, research economist at the National Institute of Education, and indexes the prices that colleges and universities pay for goods and services.)

Median charges for non-resident undergraduate tuition and fees rose from $734 in 1965 to $2,580 in 1982, an increase of $1,846 or 251.49 percent. In sum, the long term median tuition at state and land-grant universities has risen 33.99 percent more than the Higher Education Price Index and 44.4 percent more than the Consumer Price Index for resident students. For non-resident students, the increase has been 30.5 percent more than the Higher Education Price Index and 40.91 percent more than the Consumer Price Index. As has been stated in earlier reports, this reflects that state and land-grant universities have had to look increasingly to tuition and fees for revenue, while income from other sources has been depleted by inflation and slow growth in state appropriations.

Table 10 shows median charges for undergraduate tuition and fees since 1965 and the dollar and percentage increases for each academic year. The number of respondents supplying data for Table 10 varies from year to year, and therefore the respondents are not a directly comparable group of campuses.

MEDIAN TOTAL UNDERGRADUATE CHARGES RISE LESS IN 13 YEARS THAN PRICE INDEXES

The National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges began to monitor total undergraduate charges -- tuition, fees, room and board -- in 1969. From 1969 to 1982, median total charges for resident undergraduates rose from $1,297 to $3,147, a jump of 142.63 percent. Median total charges for non-residents increased from $1,910 to $4,631 during the same 13-year period, a hike of 142.46 percent. The Higher Education Price Index rose 169.1 percent during this 13-year period and the Consumer Price Index rose 167.57 percent.

Table 11 shows median total undergraduate charges since 1969 and the dollar and percentage increases for each academic year. The number of respondents supplying data for Table 11 varies from year to year, and therefore the respondents are not a directly comparable group of campuses.
